

Name _____ Box # _____

Daily

Tell them, "I love you."     Mon     Tue     Wed     Thu     Fri     Sat

Pray for them.                     Mon     Tue     Wed     Thu     Fri     Sat

Did you sin against him/her this week? Yes    No    Did you confess it to him/her? Yes    No

This week

Catch them doing something good this week and encourage them.

Name of child: _____ Date: _____

What did you encourage him/her about?

Reading

Read the following in The Heart of Anger:

- Chapter 2
- Chapter 2 (again)

Exercises

If you have children, in the column on the left list as many activities that you can think of that they are involved in. (You may continue the list on the back if you wish.) Now, in the column on the right, write whether the activity is helping them to learn to glorify God or moving them away from glorifying God (focusing on themselves, their accomplishments, on material things, etc.).

- |          |       |
|----------|-------|
| 1. _____ | _____ |
| 2. _____ | _____ |
| 3. _____ | _____ |
| 4. _____ | _____ |
| 5. _____ | _____ |
| 6. _____ | _____ |
| 7. _____ | _____ |
| 8. _____ | _____ |

(Over – See Back)

Write down what you learned by making this list and what you will change. In general, are the activities you have your child involved in and the people (coaches, teachers, close friends*) they are around moving them toward glorifying God or away from glorifying God? What will you change?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

* I am making a distinction here between close friends and friends/acquaintances. It is appropriate for Christians and their children to have friends/acquaintances who are not believers for the purpose of evangelism. However, the question is, "Who is influencing whom?" Close friends who have influence in our lives should be believers, people who will point us toward Christ.